Soziopathen in kirchlichen Organisationen Von Lanthanium Das eBook Day of the Wolf von Coleman Luck erhielt ich kostenlos - vielen Dank - und habe bis heute in vielen Stunden erst vierzig Prozent des wirklich sehr gut formulierten Buches gelesen. Coleman Luck war Drehbuchautor und Produzent in Hollywood, u.a. für die Fernsehserie The Equalizer. In seinem Non-fiction-Buch, dessen ausgezeichnete Schreibstil mir sofort auffiel, befasst sich der Autor speziell mit Soziopathen, die sich christlicher Kirchen und Organisationen als Jagdrevier bedienen, um ihre eigentzigen Ziele (Reichtum, Macht über andere, politischer Einfluss, Karriere, Sex) auf Kosten von anderen zu verfolgen. Besonders in den USA kommen einem da geldgierige Fernsehprediger in den Sinn. Jesus nannte diese Menschen in Matthäus 7:15 falsche Propheten und Wolfe im Schafspelz. Ein interessantes Thema. An ihren Früchten werdet ihr sie erkennen., steht in der Bibel, aber dann kann es für den einzelnen schon zu spät sein, denn Soziopathen behandeln andere Menschen nicht so, wie sie selbst behandelt werden möchten. Sie hinterlassen überall nur verbrannte Erde, nachdem sie weitergezogen sind. Coleman Luck wirft die Frage auf, ob Soziopathen nicht in Wirklichkeit von Dämonen besessene Menschen sind. Der Autor hat viele eigene Erfahrungen mit Soziopathen in Hollywood und in kirchlichen Organisationen eingebracht, geht aber auch auf die Erkenntnisse von Dr. Robert Hare und anderen Psychologen (z.B. Dr. Kent A. Kiehl) ein. Ein Buch, das es wert ist, gelesen zu werden (besonders wenn man selbst in einer kirchlichen Organisation beschäftigt ist). Nachtrag vom 25.06.2015: Am heutigen Tag gibt es auf der amerikanischen -Seite insgesamt vier (!) Rezensionen zu diesem Buch. Zwar sind alle sehr positiv, aber das Interesse an diesem guten Buch scheint sehr begrenzt zu sein.

Kurzbeschreibung Imagine a hospital where the lead surgeon was a carefully hidden serial killer who got pleasure and made money from bringing slow and excruciating death to his victims. Imagine a hospital where evidence about this murderer was beginning to mount. His acts were becoming clear. People were crying out in pain at what he was doing, yet, in spite of all the evidence, almost the entire staff continued to defend him, even blaming his victims for their wounds and throwing them out of the hospital to fend for themselves. Those who were trying to speak the truth were thrown out too. Sound insane? That is what is happening within many churches and Christian organizations. Most Christians don't know how to recognize spiritual wolves, nor do they even have the desire to do so. Though wolves may be mauling, Christians turn blind eyes to their attacks, allowing the damage to continue and the cause of Jesus Christ to suffer great loss. In the process, the wounded victims are further victimized by the attitudes of ignorant, cowardly people. This book has been written to help those brave people who are willing to stand against the evil that is sweeping through the church.

Über den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende A native of the Chicago area, Coleman Luck is retired after a long career as a Hollywood writer and Executive Producer in network television. He is best known for such series as The Equalizer (CBS/Universal), that starred famed British actor, Edward Woodward, and Gabriels Fire (Lorimar/ABC) that starred James Earl Jones. His first novel, Angel Fall, was published by Zondervan. Since then, he has published two more novels and three non-fiction books, the latest of which is Day of the Wolf Unmasking and Confronting Wolves in the Church. Coleman is the son of the late Dr. G. Coleman Luck who was professor of Bible and theology at the Moody Bible Institute. Coleman received his education at Moody, Northern Illinois University (BA magna cum laude), The University of Southern California and Simon Greenleaf School of Law where he studied under famed Christian apologist, the late Dr. Walter Martin. Coleman has lectured at leading Christian colleges and universities. The papers and other materials from his Hollywood career are maintained in the Special Collections at the Wheaton College Library, Wheaton, Illinois, under the title, The Coleman Luck Collection. In 1968, as a First Lieutenant in the U.S. Army infantry, Coleman led a rifle platoon with the Mobile Riverine Force of the Ninth Division in the Mekong Delta of South Vietnam. During this period, he was decorated six times for his actions in combat including the Bronze Star for valor, Bronze Star for Meritorious Service, three Army Commendation Medals for valor, the Air Medal for combat assaults by helicopter and the Combat Infantryman's Badge. Coleman lives with his wife of 48 years, Caryl Gage Luck, a fine artist, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains near Yosemite National Park. They have three grown children and four grandchildren.
