Presidential Leadership: Making a Difference (ACE/Praeger Series on Higher Education):

Kurzbeschreibung Koch and Fisher have updated and expanded the latter's highly respected 1984 book, Power of the Presidency. In Presidential Leadership, the authors explore the transformational style of leadership in greater depth. This theory is based on a strong, charismatic university president who leads and transforms the university through the power of his or her own vision for the future. The provocative arguments offered throughout the book are based both on empirical studies and on the authors' personal experiences as university presidents. Chapters on total quality management, presidential spouses, and fund raising are new to this edition, as are 11 appendixes offering sample materials for conducting presidential searches.

Pressestimmen "Writers on transactional leadership.... suggest that presidents should not attempt to make profound changes in their institutions and that most don't accomplish much real change anyway.... But James L. Fisher and James V. Koch, authors of a new book entitled Presidential Leadership: Making a Difference, paint a much different picture of the power of the presidency.... Fisher and Koch use both leadership theory and empirical research - as well as examples of successful presidencies - to teach how presidents can make a difference. They also present principles to guide presidents toward effective transformational leadership.... Whether or not the reader completely espouses transformational leadership, every administrator will find much to think about in the pages of Presidential Leadership." -Administrator... "the book's most valuable sections deal with the symbolic role of the president, understanding the need to maintain social distance, developing charisma (if one doesn't have it naturally), the role of the governing board and its relationship to the presidency, and the presidential compensation.... an excellent book and should be read by aspiring and sitting presidents, boards of trustees and legislators, and all those interested in leadership roles." -Continuing Higher Education ?...
