

(Read now) Son of a Prepper: The Basics. What Why (The Son of a Prepper Series Book 1) (English Edition)

Son of a Prepper: The Basics. What Why (The Son of a Prepper Series Book 1) (English Edition)

Von I.B. Preppin

ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

 Download

 Read Online

Produktinformation -Verkaufsrang: #570755 in eBooksVerffentlicht am: 2015-06-10Erscheinungsdatum: 2015-06-10File Name: B00ZG894X0 | File size: 33.Mb

Von I.B. Preppin : Son of a Prepper: The Basics. What Why (The Son of a Prepper Series Book 1) (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Son of a Prepper: The Basics. What Why (The Son of a Prepper Series Book 1) (English Edition):

KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Down and dirtyVon HogHeadGood basic and simple overview that you should share with ALL. Not too technical and not too freaky. First this, the one second after and the serious work.

Kurzbeschreibung Seen the news in the U.S. lately? Full-scale riots forcing innocent residents to hunker down in their own homes. Floods in Louisiana and Texas causing people to have to evacuate in a hurry. Hurricanes, blizzards, earthquakes, forest fires, chemical-carrying trains derailing, threats of violence from terrorists, water contamination, etc Its every single day, folks. Mother Nature is pissed. And the worlds gone crazy. Be prepared for it. Son of a Prepper is a non-fiction short guide that explains why and how the normal, typical American is now rushing to be prepared for any and all disasters. When that unexpected emergency or disaster hits, are you prepared to quickly leave your home? If the grocery store shelves are empty, can you feed your family? If the power goes out, will you have a way to shit, shower and shave? Are you ready to protect your family? Is your family ready to protect you? This is a prepper guide for beginner preppers not a survivalist guide. Whats the difference? Well, a prepper tries to prepare with enough modern conveniences so that the life they know wont come to an end if those conveniences arent readily available through conventional channels. A survivalist purposely journeys off into the woods with nothing except a few basic items and survives. You can drop them in the desert with nothing but boots and a bag of flour and theyll walk out of there carrying a biscuit. They got skilz Sorry gang, but Im not a survivalist. I like comfort and warm showers. I like hot food... and lots of it. I have no desire to eat grass or start a fire by rubbing two sticks together. I just wanted to clarify that in case some of yall were expecting some nifty little survivalist scenarios and tips here Sorry, but I intend to survive by preparing now known as prepping. Nothing wrong with the survivalists; I have quite a few friends that do this type of thing and hope theyre around when and if ever the shit hits the fan. Ill share my biscuits with them if I run out of fire and they want to magically produce some flames from their fingers. Sure. Bring it, Bear Gryllis-types. Yall are welcome at my campfire anytime. For those of you not intending on becoming a survivalist, get a punch-shot of advice on how to get started prepping; what to do first, what youll need, and why from the son of a prepper who was prepping way before prepping was cool. Follow these quick and dirty tips to get started on being prepared. Subjects include: The Basics, Buggin Out, Protection, Medic Preps, Money Bartering, American Privileges, a complete Bug-Out Bag checklist and a peek at his First Aid Prep Checklist, as well as just some good ole chewing the fat explaining how, why and when he became a prepper. Dont let a disaster catch you unprepared. And dont depend on the government. Depend only upon yourself. Be self-reliant. Start today.

Kurzbeschreibung Seen the news in the U.S. lately? Full-scale riots forcing innocent residents to hunker down in their own homes. Floods in Louisiana and Texas causing people to have to evacuate in a hurry. Hurricanes, blizzards, earthquakes, forest fires, chemical-carrying trains derailing, threats of violence from terrorists, water contamination, etc Its every single day, folks. Mother Nature is pissed. And the worlds gone crazy. Be prepared for it. Son of a Prepper is a non-fiction short guide that explains why and how the normal, typical American is now rushing to be prepared for any and all disasters. When that unexpected emergency or disaster hits, are you prepared to quickly leave your home? If the grocery store shelves are empty, can you feed your family? If the power goes out, will you have a way to shit, shower and shave? Are you ready to protect your family? Is your family ready to protect you? This is a prepper guide for beginner preppers not a survivalist guide. Whats the difference? Well, a prepper tries to prepare with enough modern conveniences so that the life they know wont come to an end if those conveniences arent readily available through conventional channels. A survivalist purposely journeys off into the woods with nothing except a few basic items and survives. You can drop them in the desert with nothing but boots and a bag of flour and theyll walk out of there carrying a biscuit. They got skilz Sorry gang, but Im not a survivalist. I like comfort and warm showers. I like hot food... and lots of it. I have no desire to eat grass or start a fire by rubbing two sticks together. I just wanted to clarify that in case some of yall were expecting some nifty little survivalist scenarios and tips here Sorry, but I intend to survive by preparing now known as prepping. Nothing wrong with the survivalists; I have quite a few friends that do this type of thing and hope theyre around when and if ever the shit hits the fan. Ill share my biscuits with them if I run out of fire and they want to magically produce some flames from their fingers. Sure. Bring it, Bear Gryllis-types. Yall are welcome at my campfire anytime. For those of you not intending on becoming a survivalist, get a punch-shot of advice on how to get started prepping; what to do first, what youll need, and why from the son of a prepper who was prepping way before prepping was cool. Follow these quick and dirty tips to get started on being prepared. Subjects include: The Basics, Buggin Out, Protection, Medic Preps, Money Bartering, American Privileges, a complete Bug-Out Bag checklist and a peek at his First Aid Prep Checklist, as well as just some good ole chewing the fat explaining how, why and when he became a prepper. Dont let a disaster catch you unprepared. And dont depend on the government. Depend only upon yourself. Be self-reliant. Start today.